

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The amount of noise compensation applied to a signal is controlled by a system operating as both a noise-adaptive expander and compressor based on far-end and near-end noise level estimates.